in addition to this, it plays an important role in maintaining the functioning of muscle tissue, immune system as well as reproductive system when taken in excess, alcohol can increase your chances of getting a headache or getting dizzy, increasing your heart rate, or lowering your blood pressure