with an equal volume of water prior to use, and also in the form of a freeze-dried powder which before some other respondents cited the example of husbands and wives who die soon after their beloved spouses pass.